

CERTIFICATION OF EDUCATIONAL DOCUMENTS

The first step to certify educational documents can be initiated at the British Council office or through a Notary in the UK.

1. British Council

The British Council verifies originals and copies of educational documents issued by UK accredited institutions. Please note that the FCO accepts only original documents for legalisation purposes. However, copies of the documents may be acceptable to other authorities.

For the verification, the original educational certificate or a copy should be taken to the British Council. If someone else comes to apply on the candidate's behalf, then the certificate holder needs to complete the Data Protection Third Party Consent form (available on our website)

<http://www.britishcouncil.ae/en/study-uk/education-qualification-verification-services>

The British Council will verify that the educational institution is recognised and that the individual named on the certificate was awarded the qualification. To do this, the British Council will contact the relevant institution. A reply is usually received within two weeks, but may take longer. The British Council can only stamp documents if the issuing institution is listed with the recognised accreditation agencies that the British Council uses for guidance.

There is an administration fee of AED 50 for verification. Please note that if the UK institution requests an additional fee to verify the document, the customer will have to pay this to the institution directly.

When the certificate has been verified by the UK institution, the candidate will be invited to visit the British Council with the original certificate or copy to be stamped.

The verification fee is AED 180 per stamp.

Documents may be submitted from 9 am to 4 pm from Sunday to Thursday at one of our offices below:

Alternatively, you can send the certificate to a Notary Public (most solicitors' offices in the UK offer this service). The cost for this service will depend upon the individual solicitor's office.

The signature of the British Council OR the Notary Public then has to be legalised by the Legalisation Office of the Foreign and Commonwealth Office in Milton Keynes, UK. Their address is:
